

Edhe 781: Ind., Rel., and Collective Identities

Individual, Relational, and Collective Identities examines the complexities of human identity development at three levels as suggested in the course title. Other important questions about identity development will also be addressed. What is identity? Do we have single integrated identity or multiple identities? Are identities discovered, personally constructed, or socially constructed? The discussion of these complexities and questions will be set in the context of application within higher education settings. How might the information and ideas shape our collective work as practitioner scholars? 3 Credits

Instruction Type(s)

Lecture: Lecture for Edhe 781

Subject Areas

Higher Education/Higher Education Administration

Related Areas

- Adult and Continuing Education Administration
- Educational Leadership and Administration, General

The University of Mississippi is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges to award certificates and baccalaureate, master's, specialist, and doctoral degrees. Contact the Commission on Colleges at 1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, Georgia 30033-4097, call 404-679-4500, or visit online at www.sacscoc.org for questions about the accreditation.