

Bisc 493: Capstone Directed Study

BIOLOGY

An independent research project conducted under the supervision of a faculty member with whom the student has completed 6 hours of prior research work (Bisc 491 and Bisc 492). Results must be reported in a research paper and an oral presentation in a public forum. A maximum of 3 credit hours can be applied to the degree requirements for a major in biology. Bisc 493 is not open to students who apply Honors 401 and 402 toward their degree.
