

Anth 305: Archaeology

Sociology & Anthropology

Archaeology is the subfield of anthropology that studies people through the recovery and analysis of their material and physical remains. This course outlines the history of archaeology, its methods, and contributions to understanding humankind.

3 Credits

Prerequisites

- Pre-Requisite: 24 Earned Hours

Instruction Type(s)

- Lecture: Lecture for Anth 305

Subject Areas

- Anthropology
- Archeology

