

Anth 507: The Archaeology of Landscape

Sociology & Anthropology

This course is an exploration of the economic, social, political, and ideological dimensions of natural and cultural landscapes. Students will read and discuss approaches from critical geography, social theory, anthropology, archaeology, and related disciplines.

3 Credits

Instruction Type(s)

- Seminar: Seminar for Anth 507

Subject Areas

- Anthropology
- Archeology

